ETHICAL COMPLIANCE FOR PUBLISHING CASE REPORTS

As an open access journal, CVIR Endovascular is obliged to follow the international ethical codes for publication. It is therefore crucial that if your manuscript contains any individual person's data, including for case reports, consent to publish must be obtained from this person or their legal guardian. Learn more about ethical compliance and on how to publish in CVIR Endovascular!

CVIR – MOST DOWNLOADED ARTICLES OF 2018

Marking its 40 year anniversary, 2018 was a truly outstanding year for CVIR. Readership numbers reached an all-time high with more than 300,000 article downloads. Read the five most downloaded CVIR articles of 2018 here! Notably all five of these submissions were published through open access, a system that is increasingly gaining traction, as it makes content immediately and permanently available to everyone. Learn more about open access here!
